Tony Harper — Lead vocals, percussion

Tony grew up in the City of Angels. Singing, playing bass or keys, groove naturally runs through his blood. Tony's first stop in his musical trek was with cousin, Seattle's own Antowiane Richardson and his cappella group The Main Attraction. In 1991, Tony joined Seattle reggae band The Groove later joining with Sax player Steve Munger's band Mothers Friends.

After recording a few CD's with the above mentioned Tony eventually found his way to Bump Kitchen. Life is good.

Everett James — Drums, percussion, vocals

Everett, a native of Harlem, picked up the sticks at age 8, and have never left his hands since. The Head Chef of Bump Kitchen, Everett has shared his powerful musical talent with a thunderous power. His raw energy got him voted Drummer of the Millennium 2000 by the Tacoma Blues Society.

Everett's travels around the country have brought him to the stage and studios of many legends all the while gathering the recipe to make Bump Kitchen cook!

Mark Bittler — Keyboards, vocals

Mark has been playing music for as long as he or anyone else can remember. From big bands to jazz combos to heavy metal to pop to classical to new age, Mark has done it all. He has even written several scores for films!

HOWEVER....there has always been something at his core that he has nurtured and shared with all that are willing to listen: THE FUNK! Are you next?

Dave Broyles — Guitar, vocals

David is a Washington native, making his home in Olympia. He is a veteran northwest musician having played with numerous bands for the past 30 years, including Sweatband, Reunion, and Mother's Friends with Tony Harper on vocals. He's played on a variety of film and video soundtracks, including the film "It'll Be Better Tomorrow" with Robert Downey, Jr narrating.

An avid funk fan, he is very excited to be adding his special blend of groove ingredients to the Bump Kitchen recipe!

Joe Bevins — Bass, vocals

Joe began his musical journey playing guitar but eventually he picked up the bass and realized he had found his groove. Mr. Bevins has played with hard hitters such as Mike Japp, and Northwest rock and blues guitarist Steve Stefanowicz. Joe also has collaborated on many projects with his longtime friend Everett James.

Beside a good reach out and smack ya across the face bass line, Joe is also fond of motorcycles, good food and, of course, women.

Tom Mazzuca — Sax, Percussion

Tom started playing sax at age ten. A NW native, his father & uncle both played sax. Tom has been playing professionally for over 25 years and has recorded, composed and performed with many Northwest artists. In 1993 and 1995 Tom was voted "Best Sax" by the Washington Blues Society. He has shared the stage with many bands/musicians: The Skatalites, Sam Andrews (Big Brother & the Holding Company), Steve Stefanowicz, Little Bill, Junkyard Jane, In The House, The Rhythym Test and Billy Shew.
